

CIRCULAR REPUBLIC – Circular Economy Readiness Scan

Description

Your want to start your Circular Economy journey but are unsure how? Circular Economy offers many opportunities, but it can be tough to navigate if you're new. The Circularity Readiness Scan is a self-assessment tool that helps organizations evaluate their current Circular Economy efforts and see how circularity can impact strategy, operations, and people development.

Content

The assessment helps participants to identify key factors for transitioning to a Circular Economy, offering a qualitative overview of their organization's circularity. It highlights strengths, areas for improvement, suggests pilot projects, and guides deeper integration of circular practices.

Goals

The main goal is to give participants a clear view of their organization's Circular Economy standing, providing a starting point for exploring strategies and actionable data to guide their approach.
